

Abode within the Arabica

Client: Andrew and Mrinal

Location: Magudi, Chikmagalur.

Area: 4000sft

Status: Concept Phase

This house is cradled in the lap of nature – that is the perfect description of this holiday home in the Sirri honne coffee estate.

The house sits on a highly contoured and vegetated site incorporating the existing trees into the house. It encashes on the beautiful views of the valley through decks and courtyards with collapsible doors that opens up the house to the river flowing in front of the site.

One of our favorite features in this project would be the re-use of the Pantha – an old grain storage that had fallen into disuse. This will be repurposed to a study room on the first floor accessed by a beautiful 100 year old wrought iron staircase.

The Courtyard House

Client: MSA Kumar and Mini

Location: Cochin, Kerala

Area: 3000sft

Status: On-going

A co working space designed with a perfect blend of the vernacular and the contemporary using mud architecture. This structure will be used as a creative studio for artists and architects. The walls are built using a specialized technique called rammed earth.

Rammed earth walls are constructed by ramming the soil into place between flat panels called formwork. This technique shows the beautiful layers of the soil used which adds to its rustic aesthetic.

HERITAGE

For World Heritage day, Masons Ink paid tribute to the heritage of Bangalore and held a 3 day exhibition at the Rangoli Metro Art Centre on M.G. Road.

We are happy to have seen a foot-fall of more than 1000 people.

Masons Ink organised a Heritage Hunt as part of their Hands On Heritage Initiative..

The hunt involved solving puzzles and finishing tasks and of course running!

Through interesting tasks and clues, the teams learned about the history and hidden treasures of the area...
